ALPHA DELTA PI ALUMNAE ONLINE COMMUNITY

Overview:

The goal of the Alpha Delta Pi Alumnae online community is to build a network of ADPi alumnae from all chapters to share resources and opportunities. To meet these goals, it's important for members to follow the guidelines below.

Guidelines:

- Post content consistent with the standards, ethics, and values of Alpha Delta Pi.
- Use the group responsibly. Examples of contributions include book recommendations, TED talks, articles, podcasts, job opportunities, roommate requests, etc.
- Treat others online as you would treat them in real life.
- Respect the privacy and personal information of other members.
- Communicate with courtesy and respect. Hate speech or bullying doesn't fly. Degrading comments about issues such as race, religion, ethnicity, sexual orientation, gender, or identity are in violation of Alpha Delta Pi's Statement of Policy on Membership and will not be tolerated.
- Please do not use defamatory remarks or make false statements against others.
- Please do not post solicitations of business, philanthropic contributions not sponsored/approved by ADPi, requests for political contributions, etc.

Consequences:

If a member violates these guidelines, Executive Office will contact that individual. In extreme circumstances, this may result in removing the member from the Facebook group. Any member may report a violation within the Facebook group.
